Introduction

The demographic surveys are one of the most important sources of data, necessary for development planning in the economic and social fields at the domestic and national levels. Its importance lies in the fact that it provides data covering the relatively long intervals between a census and another. Through these surveys, many of the demographic, economic and social phenomena can be studied in more meticulous detail than what is available in population censuses. That is because population censuses depend on a comprehensive counting of all households, whereas demographic researches utilize the sampling method of selected households in a scientific way, as well as examining some of the other demographic and social phenomena in more comprehensive and elaborate way.

The General Authority for Statistics (GAStat), represented in its Department of Population and Vital Statistics, has carried out a number of demographic surveys (in 1419, 1421 and 1428H). This survey, 1437H (2016), is the fourth study that is conducted by the authority. It is important for the data and details it provides covering the mid-term between the 1431H (2010) population census and the population census planned to be made in 1441H (2020) which would start on Rajab 22, 1437H to Ramadan 2, 1437H (Corresponding to the dates April 29, 2016 to June 7, 2016.)

In this survey, the researchers focus on the household, environment, marital status, number of births per woman and the cases of disabilities. This study provides data on the demographic structure of Saudi and non-Saudi people in kingdom by region. In addition, a number of indicators and demographic rates may be drawn for fertility, deaths, age and gender structure as well as to be acquainted with the marriage and divorce rates in the kingdom. Also, it sheds light on the family planning techniques and the education status in addition to details on the disabilities, causes, levels and the social and demographic characteristics of the people with disabilities. In this study, new subjects were added about the housing and environment, for example, the approximate age of the residences, data on the family members, including newborn weight and feeding, smoking and the orphanhood.

Bellow, we can find a short brief on the methodology, main concepts and definitions adopted for the survey.

The GAStat is pleased to provide data and main indicators on the population in the Kingdom through this bulletin which is divided into two main sections. The first section covers the demographic characteristics of population while the second section deals with the housing and householding characteristics. The authority hopes the results of these two parts meet the needs of planners, researchers and whoever is interested in the population studies.

First: Objectives of the Demographic Survey..

Objectives of the demographic survey include:

- 1- To provide data on the demographic and social composition of the Saudi and non-Saudi population in the Kingdom at the level of different regions in addition to extraction of indicators and demographic benchmarks, for example:
 - Crude mortality rate in addition to the age-specific and gender-specific mortality rates.
 - Child and Infant mortality rates.
 - Total fertility rate in addition to the age-specific fertility rates.
 - The normal growth rates and natural increase in Saudi population.
 - Population age and gender structure
 - Population structure by marital and educational status
 - Marriage and divorce levels
- 2- To provide details on people with disabilities in the kingdom according to the rate, type and cause of the disability in addition to its social and demographic characteristics as well as the geographical distribution.
- 3- To study effects of the housing and environment characteristics on the different demographical characteristics through:
 - Provision of the necessary housing and environment data
 - Provision of data needed to develop an environment improving program
- 4- Provision of data and indicators needed to set, develop and evaluate population estimates and projections nationwide by means of:
 - Getting acquainted with the population age and gender structure
 - Getting acquainted with the fertility rates
 - Getting acquainted with the level of mortality rates
- 5- Making comparison between the demographic indicators made out previous surveys and population and housing census 1431H (2010)
- 6- Updating the housing database to fulfill demands of the decision makers, planners and researchers of social and demographic basic data.
- 7- Providing demographic data and indicators periodically for measuring the change in the demographic characteristics with the passage of time, and for carrying out local, regional and international comparisons.

Second: Survey sample.

1. Sample Design:

The demographic survey is one of actual household surveys carried out by the General Authority for Statistics by using the general population and housing census framework 1431H (2010). To get highly efficient and effective estimates, the survey society has been divided into non-overlapping parts, characterized by relative homogeneity in their units. Each part is considered a category, and each category is dealt with as an independent society. A random sample is independently drawn from each category. Finally, all drawn sampling units are integrated to form the entire sample. It should be taken into consideration that the demographic survey needs a relatively larger size of sample than the other household samples because the survey variables affect age groups according to the sex and nationality so that real findings of demographic variables be the concrete outcomes at the region level.

2. Survey Sample Design and Selection STEPS:

before designing the survey, sample and choosing methodology, the objectives of the demographic survey 2016 was put up for discussion along with the previous survey sample (2007) to review the results and to analyze the Standard Deviation (SD) and Coefficient of Variation (CV) of main demographic variables. In the light of this study, new census sample size was set. It was a random categorical cluster that was selected through two stages, in accordance with the following:

First Stage

After determining the optimum size of the survey sample of households of each administrative region, there begins the drawing of the Primary Sampling Units (PSU) from the main sample framework. A number of 1,300 statistical areas, out of 3,600 within the framework of the census was drawn. They were distributed over all categories in every region using the method that is commensurate with the size and distributed as follows:

| Administrative Region | Sampling units' number | Administrative Region | Sampling units' number | Administrative Region | Sampling units' number |
|-----------------------|------------------------|-----------------------|------------------------|-----------------------|------------------------|
| Riyadh | 207 | Aseer | 90 | Najran | 64 |
| Makkah | 242 | Tabuk | 73 | Al-Baha | 60 |
| Al-Al-Madinah | 92 | Ha'il | 65 | Al-Jouf | 66 |
| Al-Qassim | 66 | Northern Borders | 70 | Total | 1,334 |
| Eastern region | 168 | Jazan | 71 | | |

Second Phase

The secondary sampling units, i.e. households, where (SSU) were randomly drawn from the statistical areas, which were chosen in the first phase using the regular random sample. Up to 25 households were chosen from each statistical area, (totaling 33,350) households that were picked in the following order:

| Administrative Region | Sample size (Households) | Administrative Region | Sample size (Households) | Administrative Region | Sample size (Households) |
|-----------------------|--------------------------|-----------------------|--------------------------|-----------------------|--------------------------|
| Riyadh | 5175 | Aseer | 2250 | Najran | 1600 |
| Makkah | 6050 | Tabuk | 1825 | Al-Baha | 1500 |
| Al-Al-Madinah | 2300 | Ha'il | 1625 | Al-Jouf | 1650 |
| Al-Qassim | 1650 | Northern Borders | 1750 | Total | 33,350 |
| Eastern region | 4200 | Jazan | 1775 | | |

3. Scope and range of sample:

The demographic household sample includes the Saudi and non-Saudi households living in the kingdom. It also covers individuals who take the lodging houses as their residences and Saudis who are temporarily living abroad for medication, study, tourism, etc who are counted as members of the included households as long as they were picked up in the sample. The survey's sample covers every region in the kingdom.

Third: Survey Questionnaire.

The questionnaire, which is available in electronic format, is designed by a group of GASTAT specialists who have taken into consideration recommendations, world standards and requirements set by international and local organizations. It introduces a list of questions divided into main sections as follows:

- 1) Questions on the house, environment, means of communications and entertainment.
- 2) Questions on the basic characteristics of individuals: education, employment, marital status, fecundity, and mortality.
- 3) New items were added: About the housing and environment, for example, the approximate age of the building and details on family members including newborn weight and feeding, smoking and orphanhood.
- 4) Questions on disability: They included the demographic, educational, marital characteristics of the person with disability as well as the duration and cause of the disability.

Fourth: Survey data collection and time reference

The survey was carried out in the period from Rajab 22, 1437H to Ramadan 2, 1437H (corresponding to the dates April 29, 2016 to June 7, 2016. The form was filled during an interview held with head of the family. The researchers who are deployed for field studies paid visits to the chosen households to collect the necessary data.

According to the time reference, the demographic survey form is divided into:

- 1) The main data collected should be linked to every member of the family taking into account the family size and its key characteristics, for example: Age, sex, educational status, marital status and the date on which the form was completed.
- 2) The main data collected should be linked to every member of the family with disabilities taking into account the total number and their key characteristics, for example: Age, sex, type and reason of disability, educational status, marital status and the date on which the form was completed.
- 3) The birth and less-five-year children mortality data shall cover the five years preceding the visit.
- 4) Other mortality rates shall cover the 12-month-period preceding the visit.

Main Features of Demographic Survey

First: Demographic characteristics:

1 Population Growth Rate

According to recent demographic survey 1437H (2016), the current Saudi population increased 16.54 % with (4,506,152) population to hit (31,742,308) compared to (27,236,156) in 1431 (2010) with average annual increase of (2.54 %). The population is distributed by male/female with (57.44-42.56 %) respectively in 1437H (2016) compared with (57.43 %) in 1431H (2010). As per the survey results, the number of Saudi increased to (20,064,970) Saudi which represent (63.2 %) from total population, compared to (18,776,510) Saudi in 1431H (2010), by (1,288,460) increase with (6.86 %). 2 Geographical distribution:

The population in Saudi Arabia are geographically distributed to 13 administrative regions. The results of the geographical distribution showed that Makkah tops the list. Riyadh comes second then followed by Eastern Region, Aseer, Al-Al-Madina, Jazan, Al-Qassim, Tabuk, Hail, Najran, Al-Jouf, Al-Baha and the Northern Borders Region. On the other side, Riyadh is the first region in distribution of Saudi population in 1437H (2016). Makkah comes in the second place, Eastern Region, Aseer, then they are followed by Al-Al-Madina, Jazan, Al-Qassim, Tabuk, Hail, Najran, Al-Jouf, Al Baha and the Northern Boarders Region. According to the percentage of Population & non-Saudi residing, Makkah takes the first place, from other side, according to the percentage of Saudi residing Riyadh is number one of the regions regarding to survey conducted in 1437H (2016).

3 Population age structure:

Regarding the age structure, the survey results have shown important factors:

- (24.8 %) of the total population are less than 15 years while the people who ranges between 15-64 years old represent (72 %), but only (3.2 %) are older than 65 years. The corresponding ratio of the male population represented (22 %, 75.5 and 3 %) respectively. The corresponding ratio of the female population represented (28.5 %, 67.9 % and 3.6 %) respectively.
- The ratio of Saudi population whose age less than 15-year-old is increased compared to the ratio of the total population by (30.4 and 24.8 % respectively). The ratio of the Saudi population whose age 65- year- old and more is also higher than the ratio of the total population with (4.1 and 3.2 % respectively). Bucking this trend, the ratio of Saudi whose age lies between 15-64 years dropped compared to the total population (65.5 and 72 % respectively). The difference in Saudi population distribution according to the wide age groups (younger than 15 years, 15-64 year-old, and more than 65 years) is attributed to the large numbers of non-Saudi nationals whose age ranges between 15 and 64 year-old in addition to the drop in the two other age groups (younger than 15 years and older than 65 years).

- The ratio of the non-Saudi who are younger than 15 years is (15.2 %) representing (83.2 %) in the 15-64 & in group age 65 years and older the percentage is (1.6 %). The increase of non-Saudi numbers in the 15-64 age group (83.2 %) is attributed to the fact that a large number of people arrive alone to the Kingdom at the age of work. Ratio of the non-Saudi population male in the corresponding to the age groups hit (11.4 %, 87 %, 1.6 % respectively) while the female population ratio hit (23.5 %, 74.9 % and 1.6 % respectively).
- The Saudi age dependency ratio touched (53 %) according to the outcomes of the Survey, it means every 100 Saudi whose age range between 15 and 64 years support up to 53 people in the age groups of people who are younger than 15 years and older than 65 years. The age dependency ratio among non-Saudi dropped comparing with the Saudi population (15 % and 53 % respectively) due to the huge number of non-Saudi who come for work while their ages range between 15 and 64 years, but their ratio down in the other age groups (younger than 15 years and older than 65 years). The age dependency ratio in the Kingdom touched (39 %) according to the outcomes of the 1437H survey, it means every 100 Saudi whose age range between 15 and 64 years support up to 39 person in the age groups less than 15 and more than 65 years and older.

The Survey shows the distribution of population age by gender and nationality (Saudi, non-Saudi) in the Kingdom's 13 regions as follows:

- The age distribution of the Kingdom population by gender varies from one region to another. The <15-year age group dropped to its lowest level in Al Baha at with (22.9 %) while it jumped to its top level in Al-Jouf (29.5 %). The 15-64 age group touched the bottom in Najran and Al-Jouf at (67.6%) and it's the peak in Eastern Region with (73.7 %). In the meantime, the >65-year age group recorded the highest level in Al Baha with (5.5 %) but dropped to its lowest level in the Eastern Region at (2.3 %).
- The age distribution of Saudi population by sex varies too from one region to another. The <15-year age group dropped to its lowest level in Al Baha at 26.5 percent while it jumped to its top level in Al-Jouf 36.7 percent. The 15-64 age group touched the bottom in Najran at 62.2 percent and the peak in Makkah Region at 67.7 percent. In the meantime, the >65-year age group recorded the highest level in Al Baha at 6.7 percent, but dropped to its lowest level in Tabuk at 3.1 percent.
- The age distribution of the non-Saudi population by gender dramatically varies from one region to another. The <15-year age group dropped to its lowest level in Al Jouf at (8 %) while it jumped to its top level in Jazan with (19.2 %). The 15-64 age group touched the bottom in Najran at (77.9 %) and the peak in Al Baha Region at (91.5 %). In the meantime, the >65-year age group recorded the highest level in Al-Madina at (3.7 %), but dropped to its lowest level in Hail at (0.4 %).

- Although the Saudi male population distribution is so much similar to the distribution of the Saudi female population in all regions, the distribution of non-Saudi male and female differ due to the wide gap between the male and female distribution ratios.
- In the context of the age dependency ratio, it dropped to the lowest level by (36 %) in the Eastern Region and touched the peak in Najran at (48 %). The Saudi age dependency ratio was at its lowest level in Makkah at (48 %) and at its highest level in Al-Jouf at (67 %). The dependency ratio decreased among the non-Saudi population from region to another. It records the maximum in Jazan at (28 %) and the minimum was recorded in Al Baha at (9.3 %). The age dependency ratio among non-Saudi dropped due to the huge number of non-Saudi who come for work while their ages range between 15 and 64 years, and ratio down in the other age groups (<15 years and >65 years).

4- Population gender structure:

The gender structure means the distribution of population according to the gender male/female which measures the balance between the two gender types. It means the number of males against every 100 female citizens. It is calculated by dividing the number of males by the female and multiplying the result by a hundred. In context of the distribution of population by gender in the administrative regions, the survey results show the following:

- The gender ratio of the Saudi population is (104 male) / (100 female). It lies within the normal standards (95/105). This means the community in Saudi Arabia is normal, the number of males is close to the number of female citizens.
- The distribution of the non-Saudi distribution by gender is very high than normal which is (218 male/100 female). It might be attributed to the rise of demand on foreign male workers as the majority of them arrive here on their own for business and leave their household behind in their origin countries.
- The total ratio of distribution by gender in the Kingdom hits (135 male/100 female). The ratio is elevated and abnormal, which is attributed to the same reason as the total number of non-Saudi is high. Also, this may be attributed to the fact that the gender ratio of the total Saudi distribution is a weighted mean for the two percentages of Saudi and non-Saudi population. The weighting values are the ratio of the Saudi and non-Saudi female comparing with the total number of females in the Kingdom.
- The gender ratio of the Saudi population dropped to its lowest level in Al Baha at (93 male/100 female), but it recorded the highest level in the Eastern Region at (109 male/100 female). The ratio ranged between (95 and 106) in other regions. Regarding the non-Saudi gender distribution, there is a wide gap between the two ratios. It reached (305 male/100 female) in Al Baha and (176 male/100 female) in Makkah. The gender ratio of the total population dropped to its lowest level in Al Baha at (115 male/100 female), but it made a record in the Eastern Region at (150 male/100 female). The ratio ranged between (118 and 145) in other regions.

5- The marital status and spinsterhood:

The survey results show that the ratio of 15-year-old unmarried female Saudi recorded (33 %) while the married women represented (58.8 %), but (5.6 % and 2.6 %) of the total number are widows and divorced women respectively. On the other hand, the ratio of the 15-year-old single male Saudi recorded (42.1 %) against (56.3%) married women, the ratio widows and divorced women represented (0.5 and 1.2 %) respectively. These ratios dramatically vary between various Saudi age groups. For example: the percentage of the unmarried female Saudi dropped from (97.1 %) in the 15-19 age group to (12.9 %) in the 35-39 age group and lower than (1.2 %) for the age group 55 years. The change in number is attributed to the fact that the marital status is changed from single to married.

The ratio of Saudi women (>15-year-old) who have never married changes by the administrative group. It is recorded at its lowest limit in Najran (26.1 %) and at its highest limit in Riyadh (34.9 %).

The ratio of the >15-year old female Saudi who have never been married before change according to the educational status and decrease among literate Saudi to (6.99 %) or illiterate to (7.5 %). The percentage among the women who received higher education and holder of a diploma jumps to (19.7 and to 20.2 %) among women who hold Ph.D. The percentage of unmarried women who hold non-university diploma degrees hit (22.1 %) and the percentage of unmarried women who hold university degrees hit (26.97 %) it was higher among Master's degree holders at (33.1 %). Meanwhile, the ratio of >15-year-old unmarried Saudi women who only received education at the primary schools recorded (35.5 %), the women who received secondary education, or equivalent, to (43.8 %) and hit a record for the middle education at (53.5 percent).

In the spinsterhood term was used in this survey in reference to spinster who is an unmarried woman who is past the usual age for marrying and is considered unlikely to marry. The first-marriage survey results showed that up to (97.2 %) of female Saudi were at least married once before they reach 32 age old and about (2.8%) of them have married after this age. So, the age (32-year old) is set as a border into the spinsterhood in Saudi Arabia when Saudi woman is considered unlikely to marry. This percentage is less than (3 % to 2.8 %). In light of these results, the spinsterhood among Saudi population reached (10.1 %), i.e. there a woman out of every ten unmarried Saudi women (>15-year-old) is spinster. Under the above definition, there are out of the >15-year-old unmarried women (2,261,946) there are 227,860 Saudi spinsters.

6- Age at the first marriage:

The survey age results showed that the average age at the first marriage for Saudi male in the Kingdom was 26.3-year-old, but the average age for women was 21.8-year-old. The average age at the first marriage differ among Saudi population according to the age groups. An inverse relationship is expected between the average age at the first marriage and the age groups, i.e. the average age at the first marriage of Saudi is expected to drop as far as the age group get older.

The percentage of Saudi women who have previously married (married, divorced and widows) in their 20-year-old may be another benchmark to study age at the first marriage. In this regard, the survey results show that (35 %) of Saudi female have previously married in their 20-year-old. In other words, about 35 women out of every 100 who have previously married, married before reach 20. There is a positive correlation between the ratio of Saudi female population who have previously married at the first time under 20-year-old and the age groups. The percentage rises from (26.1 %) for the 25-29 age group to (23.8 %) for the 30-34 age group and to (28.8 %) for the 35-39 age group. The ratio moves upwards from (39.6 %) for the 40-44 age group to (41 %) for the 45-49 age group and hits (46.2 %) for the 50-54 age group to top (48.2 %) for the women whose age lies between 55 and 59 years.

7 - Fertility:

According to the survey, the average number of live births delivered by a Saudi woman who passed the climacteric age (45-49) is (4.9) live children. This is measured as accumulated fertility rate for Saudi women since the date of marriage to until date of survey.

The total fertility rate for Saudi woman, according to the survey is (2.4 live children). The Total fertility rate defined as the number of children who would be born per woman in case she was a live and to pass through the childbearing years according to a current schedule of age-specific fertility rates.

The fertility rate curve for Saudi woman may be measured by holding a comparison between the total fertility rate (2.4 live children) and the average live births delivered by the 45-49-year-old Saudi women at the end of their childbearing years (4.9 live children). The comparison shows a sharp drop in fertility rate. It means the Saudi woman who started her childbearing years and enters the 45-49 age group when the survey is underway with an average of (4.9 live children) of fertility rate. So, the woman who starts her childbearing years today according to the current fertility rates provided, she still alive Until the end of her childbearing years, would reach a fertility rate of (2.4 live children). On the other side, the crude birth rate among Saudi population reached (17.23 live children) for every 1,000 persons. The rate changes from region to another; it dropped to its lowest value (10.5 live children per 1,000 persons) in Jazan and reached an average of (27.07 live children per 1,000 persons) in Al-Jouf.

8 - Family planning methods:

According to the survey, up to (28.2 %) of the fertile married Saudi women use family planning methods. This percentage changes by age group which increases from (10.2 %) for the 15-19 age group and hit its highest level at (33.9 %) for the 35-39 age group, then it drops again to (26.3 %) for the 40-44 age group before it touches the bottom (17.5 %) for the Saudi women whose age ranges between 45 and 49. The previous age pattern is shaped by the family planning methods used by Saudi women to control time spacing between births, to keep sound health of her and her children or to end childbearing period after the satisfaction with the current number of children ahead of the menopause. Thus, abandon the family planning methods starts to get close to the age groups 40-44 and 45-49.

The results of the survey showed a significant variation of the ratio of family planning methods using among the regions. The highest ratio of women who adopted family planning methods was in Jazan which reached (39.5 %) of women-controlled birth that way; Al-Madina came at the second place with (35.6 %) while the lowest number was recorded in Al-Jouf by (13.4 %).

The results show that there is a positive correlation between the family planning methods and woman's level of education in general. The lowest ratio of women using family planning methods (10.3 %) were the illiterate mothers, while the literate Saudi women represented (19.1 %) of the total number. In the meantime, the highest ratio (36.2 %) was recorded by the PH. D holders then followed by the higher educated women by (32.1 %).

In context of the method chosen to control birth, (61.6 %) of Saudi women used contraceptive pills and (17.6 %) used coil (intrauterine device (IUD). Meanwhile, (9.9 %) of women depended on the breastfeeding as a natural contraceptive. At least (3.5 %) of women used safe periods for the control, insulator (3 %), sterilization cervix (1.5%) only (1.4 %) adopted the coitus interruptus method for birth control, (0.9 %) of women uses injections while the remaining (0.6 %) of women use other methods.

9. Mortality

The survey says that the total deaths of Saudi, male and female population in the year, immediately prior the survey ' year, were 58,097 people, 35,479 people and 22,600 people respectively. The Crude Mortality Rates of Saudi, male and female Saudi population hit 2.9 cases, 3.5 cases and 2.3 cases per 1,000 persons respectively.

Also, the crude mortality rate changes by the region according to the total Saudi population, male and female citizens respectively. In Al Baha, the mortality rate is (4.62, 5.16, 4.12 deaths) per 1,000 persons respectively). In Riyadh, the mortality rate is (2.19, 1.75, 2.60 deaths per 1,000 persons respectively). The deaths are distributed according to the cause of death as follows: (Disease, aging, traffic accidents, other accidents, others [which are usually normal death]): (45.7 %, 17.9 %, 17.7 %, 10 % and 6.6 %) respectively.

According to the outcomes of the study, the deaths that caused by diseases reached its minimum in Al Baha Region which recorded (25.1 %), then it was followed by Jazan (38.9 %). The rate reached its peak in Al-Jouf by (53.3 %). In the meantime, the traffic-related death rate recorded its minimum level in the Eastern Region at (9.7 %), However, it reached the maximum in Makkah by (25.9 %). The minimum deaths caused by other accidents was registered in Al Jouf which recorded (3.8 %) of, but the maximum was recorded in Aseer with (18.5 %). The death rates for other causes reached 3.3 in Al-Qassim and 13.7 in the Northern Borders.

10 - Education and illiteracy:

The results show that (103 %) of the gross of enrollment ratio joined the primary schools, while the net enrollment rate at the same educational stage hit (96.1 %). The Saudi gross of net enrollment in the secondary education (intermediate and secondary stages according to the international standards) hit (109.9 %) and (83.1 %) respectively. At the university education stage, Saudi gross of net enrollment hit (90.1 % and 46.4 %) respectively. The Saudi gross of net enrollment at all public education stages hit (106.3 % and 90 %) respectively. The gross enrollment rate for Saudi male population increases in the primary and secondary stages (103.6 % and 117 %) respectively, compared to the gross enrollment of Saudi female population (102.4 % and 116.6 % respectively). On the contrary, the gross and the net enrollment rate of Saudi female population is higher at the university stage (97.5 % and 51.6 % respectively) than the Saudi male population (83.1 % and 41.6 % respectively). The change may be reasoned by the fact that male students join labor work after secondary school while female students continue to join the university.

For the prevalence of illiteracy among the Saudi population by age group; About (7 %) of the Saudi (>10 years) are illiterate. This ratio increases as the person moves from age group to another. About (0.7 %) of the Saudi population in the age group 10-14, but it reaches the highest level (52.7 %) for people older than 65 years. Accordingly, young age groups are luckier than the old people. They enjoy better opportunities to join an education system and at least learn how to read and write. The elderly people enjoyed a less education facilitates. The illiteracy rates increase among female Saudi population (>10-year-old) than the male Saudi hitting (10.9 % and 3.2 % respectively). The same applies to the older age groups. The illiteracy age pattern for male and female Saudi is not much different than the pattern of the total pattern. The illiteracy rate gets higher as we get older and move from less age group to the elder. It records the highest level ever as we move to the >65-year-old group.

In Saudi Arabia, there is a clear geographical disparity in literacy rate. The lowest rates can be registered in Riyadh (4.7 %) while the highest ratio is in Aseer (12 %). The lowest and highest illiteracy rates among Saudi male population can be found in Riyadh and Aseer (2.1 % and 5.3 % respectively). On the other hand, the lowest and highest illiteracy rates among female Saudi population can be found in Riyadh and Aseer too (7.4 % and 18.5 % respectively). The gap between illiteracy rates between Saudi female population is wider than what it may be found between male population in all regions.

11- Persons with disabilities:

Survey results on the disabled Saudis by region and the level of disability show that (3.3 %) of the total population are disabled. Thus, out of every 1,000 people there are 33 disabled persons. The level of disability among the Saudi male population is higher than female population (3.8 % and 2.8 % respectively).

There is a geographical disparity in disability among the Saudi population. The ratio touches its lowest value in the Northern Borders Region (1.3 %) and hits the highest level in Tabuk (4.3 %). The ratio of disabled Saudi male is at lowest in Al Baha (1.3 %) and the highest level can be found at in Tabuk (5.1 %). The minimum ratio of disabled Saudi female at the Northern Borders Region (1.2 %) and can be found at the maximum in the both Eastern Region and Al Jouf (3.3 %) and Tabuk Region (3.4 %).

The survey says that the ratio of the disabled Saudi changes from one age group to another as it reaches the lowest level among children (0.6 %). It hits (1.8 %) among children who are older than one year and younger than four years. The ratio among 65-69-year-old Saudi hit (9.1 %), while it jumps to (11.6 %) for the 70-74-year-old, (14.6 %) for the people in the age group 75-79. It hits the highest level among the Saudi population who are 80-year-old or older (27.6 %).

The total disabled Saudi persons are distributed by gender into (58.5 %) of male and (41.5 %) female.

According to Washington Group on Disability Statistics (the Washington Group), the level of disability in Saudi Arabia is categorized into three types (mild, sever and extreme (acute)). It was noticeable that the mobility difficulty's share is the most difficult which represents (38.2 %) of total disabled people according to the disability levels (35.4 %, 35.4 % and 29.2 %) respectively. The people with sight difficulty represents (35.3 %) of the total number of the disabled Saudi according to the disability levels (51.7 %, 26.3 % and 22 %) respectively.

With regard to Saudi males with disability, the survey shows that up to (37.4 %) of the disabled people suffer difficulty in mobility categorized into three types according to the level of difficulty (37.4 %, 37.8 % and 24.8 %) respectively. The males who have sight difficulty came second in order by (35.9 %) of the total of the disabled people categorized into three types according to the level of difficulty (51.9 %, 27.6 % and 20.5 %) respectively.

With regard to Saudi females with disability, the survey shows that up to (39.2 %) of the disabled people suffer difficulty in mobility categorized into three types according to the level of difficulty (32.8 %, 32.1 % and 35.1 %) respectively. The females who have sight difficulty came second in order by (34.5 %) of the total number of the disabled people categorized into three types according to the level of difficulty (51.2 %, 24.5 % and 24.3 %) respectively.

In reference to the features of the Saudi people with disabilities according to the kinship relating father and mother and type of the difficulty, the survey shows that (28.9 %) of disabled people in Saudi Arabia have parents with first degree kinship. Around (11.1 %) of the disabled people have parents with first-degree kinship from the father side, meanwhile, (7 %) of the disabled people have parents with first-degree kinship from the mother side. In the meantime, (16 %) of the disabled people have other degrees of kinship relating their parents. Only (37 %) of the Saudi population with disability have no direct kinship relating mothers and fathers. In other words, up to (63) disabled persons out of every 100 people with disability in Saudi Arabia have parents related together with a kinship, at the same time, around (47) disabled persons out of this number have parents related together with a first-degree kinship. Only (16) people with disabilities have parents with non-first-degree kinships. About (38 %) of the disabled persons who have parents with first-degree kinship suffer extreme (acute) difficulties in mobility. In the meantime, (1.8 %) of the disabled persons who have parents with first-degree kinship suffer minor Self-care difficulties.

In the context of difficulty causes, around (34.4%) of disabilities are attributed to birth defects, but (36.9 %) are caused by diseases while the birth-related difficulties represent only (9.6 %). Thus, (4.5 %) of disability are pregnancy-related, (5.8 %) are traffic accidents –related, (5.5 %) are other accidents–related, and at least (3.3 %) might be attributed to other reasons.

There is a duration disparity in the category of difficulty suffered by the Saudi population with disabilities. The term of 5-9 years of difficulty is a relatively short period for first degree of difficulties except Self-care, mobility problems which are categorized under a >25-year-long disability first degree. In other words, around (27.4 %) of people with communication functional difficulties, (24.7 %) of people with Hearing disabilities, (23.3%) of people with vision disability and (21.7 %) of people with memory and concentration difficulties suffer for a short period of time (5-9 years). Also, maximum ratio of Saudi people with Self-care problem (24.3 %) in addition to the mobility problems (23.8 %) suffer for 25 years or more.

Under the distribution of Saudi population with disabilities (≥ 10 -year old) by education and gender, around the third (33.3 %) of the people with disabilities are illiterate. Followed by, (15.9 %) of the people with disabilities can read and right, but the disabled people who finished the primary education are (15.4 %) of the total number. Meanwhile, (14.1 %) of them finished secondary school. Less than that, (10.8 %) hold a degree of intermediate school and (7.6 %) finished their university studies, while (2.9 %) of them hold an under-graduate diploma.

Under the distribution of Saudi population with disabilities (≥ 15 -year old) by marital status and gender, (45.5 %) of them never married, while (39.9 %) of disabled people are married. In the third place, come the widows (11.2 %) followed by the divorced people with disabilities (3.4 %). The ratios of male/female of Saudi population with disabilities were not so different for those who have never married (47.1 % and 43.2 %) with differences in other difficulties. The results, categorized by the type of difficulty, show no difference as the ratios of single people with disabilities topped all types of difficulties except for the mobility which is capped by ratio of the married people with disabilities.

12. Orphan:

Orphan is a person under 18 years of age and not married, who lost one or both of his parents. The survey showed that the ratio of orphan children, under 18 years of age, recorded (2.34 %) for both males and females with tiny difference which were (2.41 % for males) and (2.27 for %). The maximum ratio of orphans hit (3.44 %) in Tabuk, while the lowest hit only one percent in the Eastern Region.

13. Smoking:

According to the results of the survey, (20.35 %) of males (>15 -year old) in Saudi Arabia, consume tobacco on daily basis compared with only (0.31 %) of the female population of the same age. There is consumption disparity in both sex groups (>15 -year old) from one region to another. Tabuk has highest rate of consumption among male Saudi population (32.05 %) of population, while the lowest number of smokers live Aseer Region (11.08 %). The other ratios of smokers among Saudi males (>15 -year old) in the other regions hit about (20 %) of population.

Second: Characteristics of Households and Housing:

1- Houses and geographical distribution:

The total number of houses, which are occupied by households Saudi in the kingdom, reached (3,417,788) houses distributed as follows:

Villas in Riyadh represent the highest ratio of houses which are occupied by Saudi households (47.45 percent of the total houses). In Al-Qassim, villas represent 56.79 percent of the total houses occupied by Saudi households. It is followed by Aseer (34.26 percent), Hail (42.58 percent), the Northern Borders (27.71 percent), and Al Jouf (39.72 percent). In the meantime, apartments represent the highest ratio which are occupied by Saudi households in Makkah, 58.15 percent, Al-Madina (60.14 percent), the Eastern Region (44.42 percent), Tabuk (57.77 percent), Najran (32.68 percent) and Al Baha (37.13 percent). The traditional buildings in Jazan, at the same time, comes on top of houses occupied by Saudi households (57.95 percent).

2- Houses by approximate age:

The survey shows that the ratio of the approximate age (<5 years) of houses inhabited by Saudi households hit (10.42 %), while the approximate age of houses (5-10-year-old) inhabited by Saudi households hit (25.33 %). In the meantime, the number of houses with approximate age ranging between 10-20 years hit (30.5 %) of houses in which Saudi households are living. Regarding the houses with approximate age ranging between 20-30 years hit (21.61 %) of houses inhabited by Saudi households.
